Buy Feeders Fallen
Pastures

Mr. Buckey said he would buy feeders weighing 100 pounds or more according to his associate business manager, Agricultural Enterprises.

"We are selling in Texas for $15 per hundred pounds of weight toward the end of the year. The lighter weights are $10 per hundred."

"Lightweights make more money than heavyweights on our program because we make all the gains," Mr. Buckley said.

He said the gains are that lamb prices will be about the same.

"A lamb which was $20 per hundred last year would cost $9 per head. They have enough wool to pay the shearing costs to your farm."

"If you weigh 95 pounds and sell them at $15 per hundred, this would be $9 per head."

This figure of $10 per head which is a nice net."

Some kind of profit can be made by buying the right kind of lambs giving them adequate grazing, said Mr. Buckley.

"You know with whom you are dealing. There is a big difference in the top and bottom," Buckley advised.

"Sheep do better on clover or a mixture of clover and small grain than on straight small grain," he said. Plant the clover in a separate area rather than with small grain.

Sheep grazing, follow some for small grain and plant the last of August or the first of September. The clover should be available as soon as it begins to grow next spring. This will leave the small grain combining, silage, hay or to be fed with cattle.

"To market the lambs in March and April, preferably before middle of April.

"Western lambs are bought at the end of October, have been sheared before shipping to market. Then shear again 60 or 90 days before selling. They do much better out of the wool," he added. For further information, contact local county agent.

OAST LANDINGS
SHRIMP SHOW
LINE INCREASE

Shrimp landed at Biloxi in June were 1,055,000 pounds, the U. S. Bureau of Commercial Fisheries reported with 254,000 pounds shrimp landed at Biloxi.

This represented an increase of 43,000 pounds over May's landings at Biloxi and an increase of 5,000 pounds over the same period at Pascagoula.

Shrimp landings for the first half of 1960 totaled 1,095,000 lbs. during the bureau reported and 100,000 pounds at Pascagoula.

Landings in June of 1959 were 900,000 pounds at Pascagoula and 240,000 pounds at Biloxi. Nearly the shrimp caught in June were brown shrimp, with only 6,000 pounds of the total landed at Pascagoula being white pink shrimp.

Salter landings were reported June at either Coast city. Blue landings were up on the Mississippi Coast, with a June total 260,000 pounds, compared with 200,000 lbs. in May of this year. June of 1959, however, the total

Merlin Pledges Full Cooperation To Complaints And Criticism

State Forester C. E. Merlin has informed today that he will "fully cooperate" to help solve the problems in forestry, to the best of his knowledge his responsibilities as State Forester.

Mr. Merlin said he recognized the right of anyone to complain and his office had always been open to hear grievances of any and all people within and without the organization. He said he did not know why these groups making complaints did not utilize these privileges but instead bypassed him and the Commission and went directly to the Governor. However, having done so, he recognized the governor and Commission, in fairness to everyone, must study the matter.

Mr. Merlin said he felt that most of those who came to the meetings should not be criticized and are certainly not to be condemned.

Mr. Merlin reported that he would have made a statement earlier but was not apprised of the nature of the complaints from Forestry Commission personnel until he read them in the newspapers last Saturday evening. Without full knowledge of those complaints, he said he could not discuss them now but will make all possible information available to those making the study. In the meantime, he feels most people understand that it is natural to have differences of opinion where administrative procedures are concerned and it is impossible to please everyone. This is particularly true with an agency as large as the Forestry Commission which covers the entire state and at peak seasons employs more than 1100 persons.

The State Forester said he works under the direction of the Forestry Association, the woodusing to get the maximum forestry program from the funds and facilities available. Mr. Merlin said he realizes the responsibilities which are his and feels he has stood fast for the things that are right in following the direction of the Commission.

He said that he is proud his administration as State Forester has met with the approval of foresters, tree farmers, the Mississippi Forestry Association, the woodusing industries and others who are best acquainted with the forestry program at the grass roots.

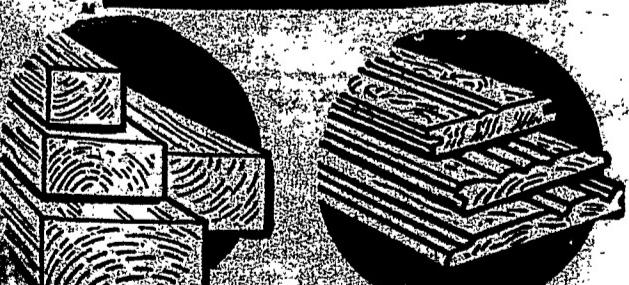

Mr. Merlin declared he had always been impressed by Governor Barnett's expressed interest in forestry development and has worked closely with the Governor and the Forestry Association in the preparation and enactment of the Forestry Bank Act of 1960. He said he had also toured the State during the past two weeks with Forestry rank officials to help launch Governor Barnett's new forestry Bank program.

In concluding, Mr. Merlin said he was interested now in getting the current investigation completed so that full attention could be given to working with all Mississippians in making even more rapid progress toward the goal of a billion dollar annual business in forestry.

total for blue crabs was 272,000 pounds.

Pascagoula-Biloxi crab meat production totaled 31,200 pounds in June, an increase of 8,300 lbs. over May production. January through June figures show that crab meat production has totaled 109,200 pounds.

Saltwater fish landings for June were 180,000 pounds compared with 178,000 pounds landed in May and 197,000 pounds landed in June of 1959.

Jr. Red Cross
Course To Be At Park College

Junior Red Cross Training Center is being held at Gulf Park Camp, Miss. This is one of the predicted this summer in several areas. The purpose is to teach Red Cross youth leadership skills and teamwork with the overall Red Cross, so that they can effectively participate in their school and community programs. Local youth among the 50 attendants are from Ripple Marie Ranch of Lake.

They are participating as members of the Center Council and Recreation, Health and Safety, Religious Entertainment, Dining and Banquet Arrangements, and Activities and Newspaper Committees. The local youth leaders have so far indicated particular interest in Disaster and Water Safety which is a healthy sign for cooperation in Chapter programs for the coming year.

Wednesday evening of this week they will be joined by 36 adult Red Cross leaders who will participate in an Adult Workshop on Junior Red Cross. During the balance of the week they will be busy observing the delegates at work in discussion groups, on committees, in assembly programs and in government for their own student council. Part of this day will be spent in their own discussion groups on the Red Cross Program and the place of American youth in school and community activities.

Many of the adult volunteers have years of Red Cross experience behind them; others are quite new to the program, so a stimulating exchange of ideas and questions is taking place. They were all inspired by the spirited address on "My Volunteer" given by Mrs.
Cas Goodey Jr., of Bogalusa, La., on Tuesday night. Mrs. Good-ley is a member of the Board of Governors of the American National Red Cross and also a Volunteer Field Consultant.

The week's training center will close formally on Thursday evening with a banquet and closing ceremony. At that time Miss Janet Myers of Winter Haven, Fla., a member of the Junior Red Cross Southeastern Area Advisory Council will be the key speaker.

June Business Activity In Gulfport-Biloxi
District Continues High

State College, Miss.—June business activity in the Biloxi-Gulfport district continued near the all-time high for this month set in June 1959, according to the current issue of "The Mississippi Business Review," monthly publication of the Business Research Unit at Miss. State University.

During June, district activity registered 125 per cent of the 1956-57 average; a year ago, it registered 128 per cent.

The city of Biloxi did a little better than the district as a whole, going from 134 per cent of the base period in June 1959 to 136 per cent in June 1960.

Gulfport also reported an increase in this case, from 125 per

By The Mississippi
Farm Bureau Federation

Mississippi members
May See Red Mallet
in Growing Years

Leaders of the Mississippi Farm Bureau Federation will have an opportunity to win expense paid trip to Chicago next March through a new contest announced by the Mississippi Farm Bureau

Federation.

At least two state boys and girls who write winning newspaper articles on the topic of "Food" will be awarded trips to the National Food Conference in Chicago

March 31, 1961.

The Chicago conference trip is a product of a nation-wide effort to focus serious public attention on the need for better eating habits among the people of this country.

Three years ago the national food industries took action through the American Farm Bureau Federation to change the food habits of people who have become so conscious of weight and dieting that we were becoming a nation of undernourished people despite our over supply of food.

Entrants in the contest, in Mississippi must write news articles, features, editorials, or draw cartoons or take photographs which promote better nutrition. Their work must be printed in a Mississippi newspaper and at least three such items clipped from newspapers during the period of September 1, 1960, and February 1, 1961, must be submitted to the Mississippi Farm Bureau Federation as their entry in the contest.

Ave. limits are from 18 to 19 and each applicant must submit an application form, a picture, a completed "food nutrition quiz," and a folder containing his listed newspaper entries to the Farm Bureau no later than February 1, 1961.

The contest will begin with the 1960-61 school year or approximately September 1, 1960.

A folder must be prepared, 8½ by 11 inches in size, containing these articles, properly mounted, for submission to a panel of judges. Judges will be members of the Mississippi press, writers, and/or editors of newspapers.

Winners of the expense paid trips will be notified by March 1, 1961.

Application forms, "food nutrition quiz" forms and additional information is available at all county Farm Bureau offices.

HOME ACCIDENTS ON INCREASE IN MISSISSIPPI

Home accidents jumped sixteen per cent in 1958 over 1957, and seventeen per cent is 1959 over the previous year. Fatal mishaps in the home and on the home premises have moved up ahead of disease to first place in leading causes of deaths for all age groups in our state.

cent to 128 per cent; Pass Christian rated 124 per cent, the same figure as a year ago; and Picayune moved up from 101 to 103 on the state's index.

Bay St. Louis reported business activity down from 135 per cent of the base period in June 1959 to 126 per cent in June 1960.

Gulfport also reported an in-
